

To You

Eat a cake with me!
Eat a cake with me now!
And let us talk together,
talk about what we know,
and about what we want to know.

It could be good, you know,
to once again,
take up the trivial,
and that which is sad,
and then all which is good,
find what it is,
and gather around that.

Not an impossibility, is it?
And if it is,
we are not stopped by that.

Another piece of cake?
Thank you! You are welcome!
And some more coffee.

Einar
